SOCIETY

ALINE THOMPSON

A charming affair was the luncheon given Wednesday by Mrs. William Brown and Mrs. William Eldridge who entertained in the home of the former. The table decorations and appointments were unusually lovely; a centerpiece of yellow roses combined with purple iris and airy butterfly bows of yellow and purple tulle was surrounded with small crystal bowls of purple violets. Covers were placed for twelve prominent matrons.

A pretty luncheon was given recently by Mrs. F. J. Butler and Miss Emma Botsford honoring Miss Marie Sneed of Halsey. Blue forget-me-nots and dainty corsage bouquets were the artistic table decorations. Circling the table besides the honor guest were Miss Isabel McGilchrist, Miss Violet McClaine, Miss Olive Rooche and Miss Lucille Jaskuski.

Mrs. Chester Cox entertained this afternoon with a delightfully informal sewing bee. The guests included about fifteen maids and younger matrons.

The refreshment table was particularly attractive with a yellow and green color scheme and a center of marigolds.

In honor of Mrs. H. C. Epley on the occasion of her birthday anniversary Dr. Epley entertained today with a luncheon at the Spa.

Covers were placed for eight.

Mrs. Gerald Volk entertained today with a delightful afternoon at her home in Volkland. The matrons of the P. E. O. club and several additional friends were guests.

Mrs. Fred W. Selee entertained the members of the south central circle of the First Methodist church at her home on Wednesday afternoon. The rooms were prettily adorned with fragrant wild roses. During the afternoon Mrs. N. L. Hoyer read an interesting paper on "Frances Willard" and Miss Mary Findley played several charming violin solos.

Mrs. Selee was assisted by Miss Moody.

Mrs. Edgar L. Martin (Alta Altman) of Berkeley, Cal., who is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Altman, returned today from a several days visit in Portland.

Tuesday an all day picnic was held in celebration of the closing of the Mountain View school, under the auspices of the teachers, Miss Martha Wikberg of Salem and Miss Chloé Seymour of Falls City. A large number of friends and parents attended the affair and enjoyed the unusually pleasant day.

WILLAMETTE GLEE CLUBS FINE CONCERT

Church Filled to Capacity and One and All Delighted by Music

The Willamette Glee Club concert filled the spacious First Methodist church last evening, proving that music hath charms to dispel thoughts of a rainy night, for when the two clubs appeared on the rostrum shortly after 8:00 o'clock, nearly all of the seats were taken.

The clubs lived up to their reputation as dispensers of classic music and the program from beginning to end was much appreciated by the audience, judging from the number of encores.

The opening number, "Bohemian Girl," a gypsy chorus, by the two clubs in ensemble, gave rich promise of the feast to come, a promise that was faithfully and fully kept.

The piano solo by Miss Faye Janette Bolin showed that she is a careful student of technique. The selection was a difficult one, yet her interpretation of it was exceptionally good.

The next number, a vocal solo by Miss Louise Benson was a joyous spring song and her smiling pleasant manner well fitted the selection. As an encore she gave a humorous solo entitled, "An Essay On the Camel."

The Willamette Men's Glee club made a hit with the audience with their rendition of John Philip Sousa's "The Stars and Stripes Forever," and in response to an encore sang "Little Jack Horner" in which the roaring basso profundos could be heard to good advantage.

Miss Esther Cox's piano solo, the "Spinning Song" was so well interpreted that one could imagine the whir of the spinning wheel. In response to an encore she gave the light tripping song, "To Spring," by Grieg.

The Willamette quartet sang several selections, among them a "Negro Medley" in which an opportunity was given them to introduce a minstrel effect, the deep bass voice of Harry Bowers showed well here, while Roger Lyons, baritone, also did well as quartet soloist.

The Ladies' chorus gave two numbers that called for an encore.

The second part of the program opened with the appearance of the two clubs, rendering Sullivan's "The Lost Chord." This number marked the high point of the concert, for its rendition, and pipe organ and piano accompaniment caused it to be considered the best number on the program where all the voices were together.

The next number, a piano solo by Harry Mills, "Rhapsodie Hongroise XV," the Hungarian national air was a blending of the militaristic with the wild, care free life of the gypsy, and Mr. Mills' interpretation of it was that of a master musician.

When the Willamette Men's club sang their next number, one was able to discover how many university students were present.

A feature of the entertainment were the readings by Masters Rex, David and Theodore Howard of Salem. Other numbers included, piano solo, Mr. Nicholson; "Dolly Song," little girls; recitation, "Washing," Madeline Bechtel; vocal solo, Rosa Grace; recitation, "My Grandmother," Esther Bechtel; reading, "Meaning of Home," Mrs. Olinger; piano solo, Mr. Nicholson; reading, "One Legged Goose," Garland Cox; vocal solo, Martha C. Wikberg; recitation, "The School Boy's Dream," Ralph Bailey; paragon drill, Vera Southwick, Irene Hoehn, Madeline Bechtel, Margaret Olinger, Sophie Heber; recitation, "Nation to Its Foreign Born," Rex Howard; reading, "The Blacksmith's Story," Mrs. Frank Rosenquist; song, Misses Hilman and Grace; reading, "This Old Country," David Howard; reading, Tree Toad, Teddy Howard; song, "Columbia," by five girls.

The Booth string orchestra will give its final dance of the season in the armory on June first.

Mrs. W. H. Turpin and daughter, Dorothy, of Vancouver, B. C., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hunt in Yew Park.

The Woman's Auxiliary of St. Paul's Parish will meet tomorrow afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Robert Gill, 538 Chemeketa street.

were present, for at the first notes of "The Old Historic Temple" every student stood at attention, this being the accepted college anthem.

The vocal solo, "Sing On," by Miss Lelo McCaddam, revealed the wide range of her rich lyric soprano voice. The clear tones of her voice with her pleasing personality were irresistible and the audience chose to have her sing on. She responded with a pretty little song entitled "Supposing," which brought a storm of applause.

The Ladies' chorus sang several more songs, one of which, a lullaby by Chadwick, was especially good.

Gus Anderson gave a humorous reading, "Modern Education," which took so well that he was compelled to respond with a second which was of such a tragic nature that sighs could be heard all about the room as the expected disaster (which didn't occur), was about to happen.

The closing number of the concert by the combined clubs was a wedding chorus and was very fitting, as the two clubs united in singing it.

On the whole the concert was the best heard in Salem for sometime, and it is hoped that another concert in Salem next year will follow.

The personnel of the two clubs follows:

WHAT OUR NEIGHBORS IN CALIFORNIA SAY.

Pasadena, Cal.—"I want to extend to you my heartfelt thanks for the benefits derived from the use of your medicines, also for the kind and good advice obtained. I am a proud mother."

"I had been a great sufferer; three times I was given up to die—the last time being four months ago. I doctored with several doctors but obtained no relief. Was told that an operation would effect a cure, so I submitted to one, but this proved like all the medicines I had taken—not beneficial. I obtained, and started at once taking 'Favorite Prescription.'

"Four months ago the doctors and nurse said it would be a year or more before I would be able to do my housework, and, of course, I thought so myself as I was not able to walk across the floor for several weeks. I am now able to do my housework and to care for my children and I do not feel as though I could ever thank you enough for the benefits I have received."

—Mrs. MABELLE KIPP, 184 South Pasadena Ave.

Will Change Girl's Name and Give Her a Chance

Oroville, Cal., May 18.—Plans for placing Gertrude Lanson, 15 years old, accused of Rev. Madison Slaughter, in a good home were made today by the grand lodge of Elks, which promises to take care of her. C. S. Chae, probation officer in authority over the girl, returned today from a visit to San Francisco where he was accompanied by a prominent Elk.

As Judge Gregory is in San Francisco, there were no new developments in the Slaughter case today. The writ of probable cause which the minister wanted to have dismissed so he could begin serving his 15 year sentence immediately is still in effect.

The probation committee meets Monday, at which time steps toward placing Gertrude Lanson in a permanent home where her name will be changed and her identity concealed will probably be taken.
